'Write'

from the start

This webinar will explore the recently published guidance – 'Writing Framework'.

We will explore the recently published 'Writing Framework' by the DFE and what it means for Early Years practice. Together, we'll unpack its key messages on effective provision, exploring how to strike the perfect balance between teaching the foundations of writing and nurturing children's confidence, creativity, and love for writing. If you would like to understand the developmental journey of early writing and fill your teacher toolkit with playful, purposeful ideas to help every child feel like a writer, this session is not to be missed!
